4 Read the following text and answer the questions below.

My ideal city is located on the Red Sea coast. There are houses and apartments, schools, two museums, and a hospital. There are a lot of green spaces where people can go for walks, ride their bikes, and enjoy being in nature.

Personally, I think that green spaces are the most important part of a city. There are also palm trees in all the streets to provide shade.

Most of the electricity for the city comes from a wind farm on the coast. The wind farm has 12 wind turbines that generate electricity. Many buildings have solar panels. In my opinion, all buildings should have solar panels on their roofs. I am sure that people will stop using fossil fuels soon because renewable energy is cleaner.

4 Read the following text and answer the questions below.

Erosion is a natural process. It happens when rock and soil is moved from one place to another by water, wind, or flows. The waves and currents in the sea can erode beaches, and rivers can erode riverbanks. Heavy rains or winds can also cause the land to erode. Different types of flows – floods, landslides, tsunamis, or glaciers – also erode the land. Humans can cause erosion. Heavy agriculture is one way that people do this. Burning fossil fuels is another way because it results in climate change. Climate change causes sea levels to rise and results in more erosion.

4 Read the following text and answer the questions below.

Kárahnjúkar is a hydropower plant in eastern Iceland. The hydropower plant is the largest power plant in Iceland. It took five years to build, from 2003 to 2007. Five dams were built across two rivers. This created three large reservoirs of water. Water from the reservoirs travels through 73 kilometers of underground water tunnels. Then it goes down a deep tunnel to the underground power station. The Kárahnjúkar Dam is the largest of the five dams. It is 193 meters high and 730 meters long. It generates more than 690,000 kilowatts of power a year. The power isn't used to heat homes. It is used for an industrial metal plant.
